AS WE began the 1963-64 school year, few of us realized how soon that it would end. Football O'Rama brought the beginning of football season and of the school year. The death of President Kennedy cast a gloomy atmosphere over the Thanksgiving Holidays. Christmas holidays came — and left.

It was now 1964. New Year's resolutions were made — and broken. Mid-year exams called for the usual cramming and late hours, but the break was welcomed. Sectionals came with the excitement and traditional tears, ending the major athletic activities.

Freshmen by now were in the swing of high school life while seniors were trying to visualize what the future held. The climax of their high school life — Prom and Graduation — was before them, all too soon. The school year of 1963-64 is now a memory.

AS WE reflect over our years at WHS, most of us will smile or shed a few tears. To help bring back some of the things that may have been forgotten, the REFLECTOR staff recorded events during the year AS WE . . .

Printing Presses Stand as Silent Bearers of Grief

Mr. Bernard J. Vesely
1899-1963

Room 14 is silent now. As we try the door, we find it locked. Not a sound is heard as we pass by. The presses inside, so active only last year, remain silent and still just as the man who once watched over them with loving, skillful eyes.

This room and these presses were the charges of Mr. Bernard J. Vesely for the 42 years he taught at Whiting High School. Mr. Vesely passed away June 21, 1963.

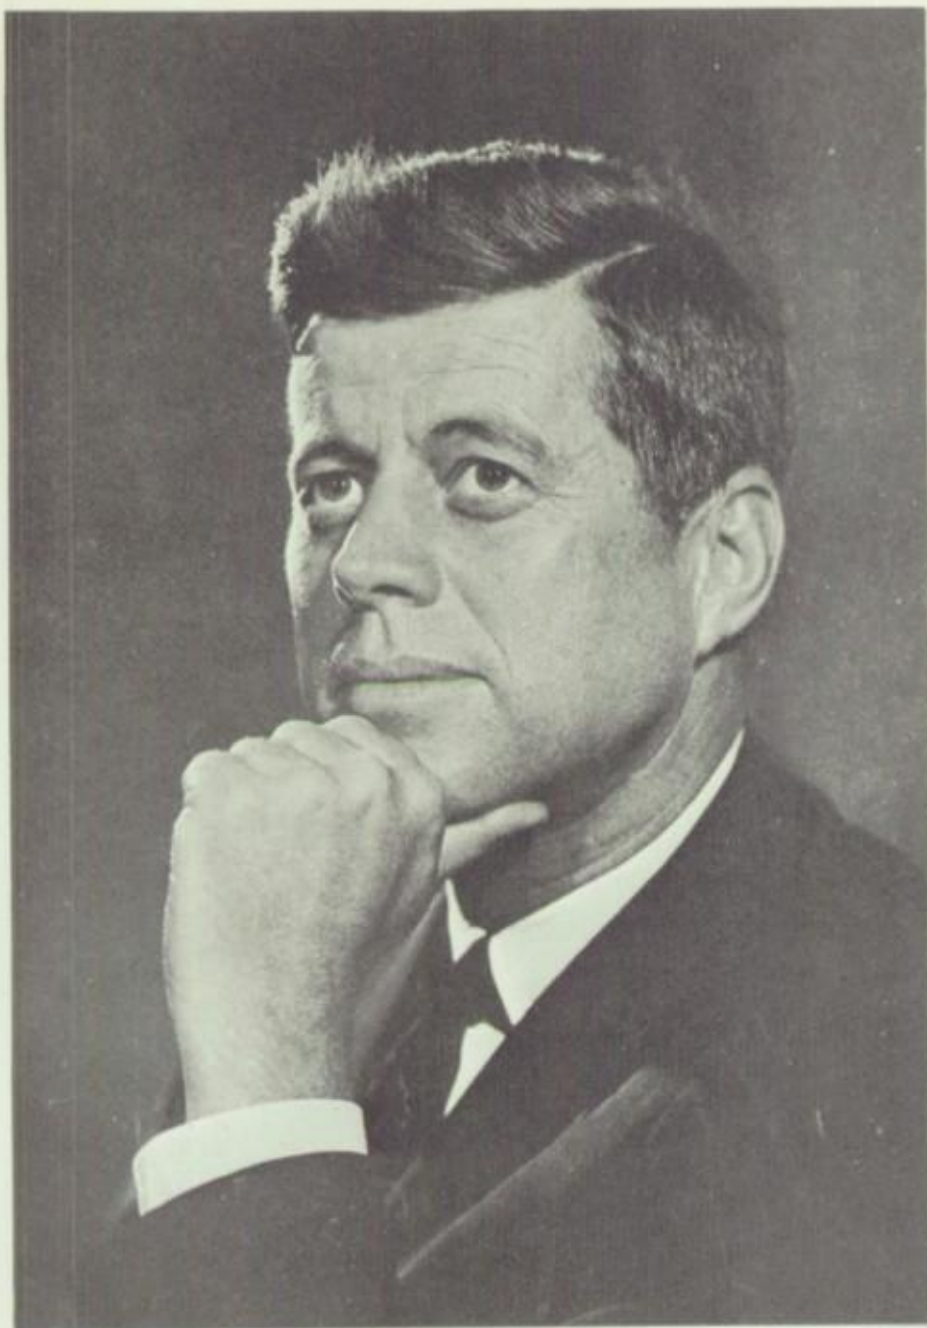

His students knew and respected him as a teacher. The publications' staffs often called on him for advice and proofreading, and the Tattler staff depended on his printing the paper every two weeks. Many students also knew Mr. Vesely as a friend. He often offered suggestions and helped in painting signs and making decorations for various activities.

His friendly smile and greeting were missed by all this fall as we began another school year.

The huge oil can which he fashioned and painted stands staunchly on the roof of the Whiting concession stand at our football field. It pays tribute to a fine friend and wonderful teacher, Mr. Vesely.

Mr. Vesely is pictured assisting Larry Dixon and John Kobe in setting type for the bi-weekly Tattler.

PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY
1917 - 1963

"The fundamental call to greatness is coming not from any party or any person but from history and the hard logic of events." Little did John Kennedy know how "history and the hard logic of events" would pay his "call to greatness" when he made this statement.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was born on May 29, 1917, in Brookline, Massachusetts. In 1940, he graduated Cum Laude from Harvard University. During World War II, he served in the United States Navy. From 1953-61 he was a United States Senator from Massachusetts.

'And, Then,
in a Moment
It Was No More'

On November 8, 1960, he was elected President. On January 20, 1961, John F. Kennedy was sworn in as 35th President of the United States. Thirty-four months and two days later, on November 22, 1963, he was shot and killed in Dallas, Texas.

In a message to the United Nations, his successor, President Lyndon B. Johnson, said this of John F. Kennedy: "My nation has lost a great leader, this organization has lost a great friend, world peace has lost a great champion."

Whiting High School Campus: Center of Academic,

Whiting Public Library supplies the students with up-to-date information and references for study. It also provides a pleasant atmosphere for leisure reading or further study for adults.

"Hail Sturdy Oilers" peels throughout the gymnasium on game nights. Students and adult boosters come to see the Oilers strive for victory and fight for the green and white. As well as being the home of WHS basketball games, the gymnasium also is used as the site of monthly activity nights, post-game dances, and graduation ceremonies.

Students bustle in and out of the library in search of information and enjoyment.

Athletic and Social Activities During Year

Academic, athletic, and social activities center about the Whiting High School campus. Located at 1800 New York Avenue, it consists of the junior-senior high school, public library, and gymnasium. Football and baseball fields, situated near Whiting Park, are the scenes of all Oiler home games.

The junior-senior high school building, the main part of the campus, consists of 22 classrooms. In these rooms 30 teachers put the mental abilities of the students to a challenge. They are taught to compete with classmates and to set their goals high. Apart from classrooms the building includes a regulation size swimming pool, girls' gym, library, auditorium, and lunch room.

From the first freshman basketball game to commencement evening, Whiting's Memorial Gymnasium remains the center of student life.

It's often said that fools rush in where wise men never dare to go, but such is not the case at Whiting High School. Anytime during the school day, one can find the wise scholars of WHS rushing to meetings, rushing to class and, towards the end of the day, rushing to their favorite hangouts for a little refreshment before starting for home.

The school day for Whiting High School students begins at 8:15; and after a 15-minute home room period, classes commence.

Whiting girls rush through the doors in an effort to hurry to their lockers and to their class.

Lockers Serve As Storehouses for Everything

Hurry! Hurry! Beat the bell.

Senior high students trudge up the 26 stairs on the way to their next class.

Jean Benko, Brian Dickens, and Mark Brown gaze patriotically as Mr. John McNamara raises "Old Glory".

George Toth and Stan Bialon combine their musical talents each morning as they play "To the Colors."

Students Daily Pledge Allegiance to 'Old Glory'

"I pledge allegiance to the flag . . ." declare 452 students as "To The Colors" echoes through the halls each morning. During the day every Oiler is reminded of his great heritage, whether in classroom discussion or by gazing upon "Old Glory." Teachers, professional speakers and students present patriotic assemblies during the school year.

Once every year a demonstration on operating the voting machines and a lecture on election procedure is given to students taking the required courses of American History and Civics.

Whitingites stop for a refreshing drink during the five-minute break between classes.

"You don't think that this is the real thing, do you?" ask students hopefully as they file out of the building during a fire drill.

Mr. George Saliga, boys' counselor, helps Jack Gresko, Joe Pokraka and Tom Greskovich choose their schedules for the coming semester.

Jack Gresko burns the midnight oil to get an "A" on that important test.

Frosh, Sophs Visualize a 'Dream Into Tomorrow'

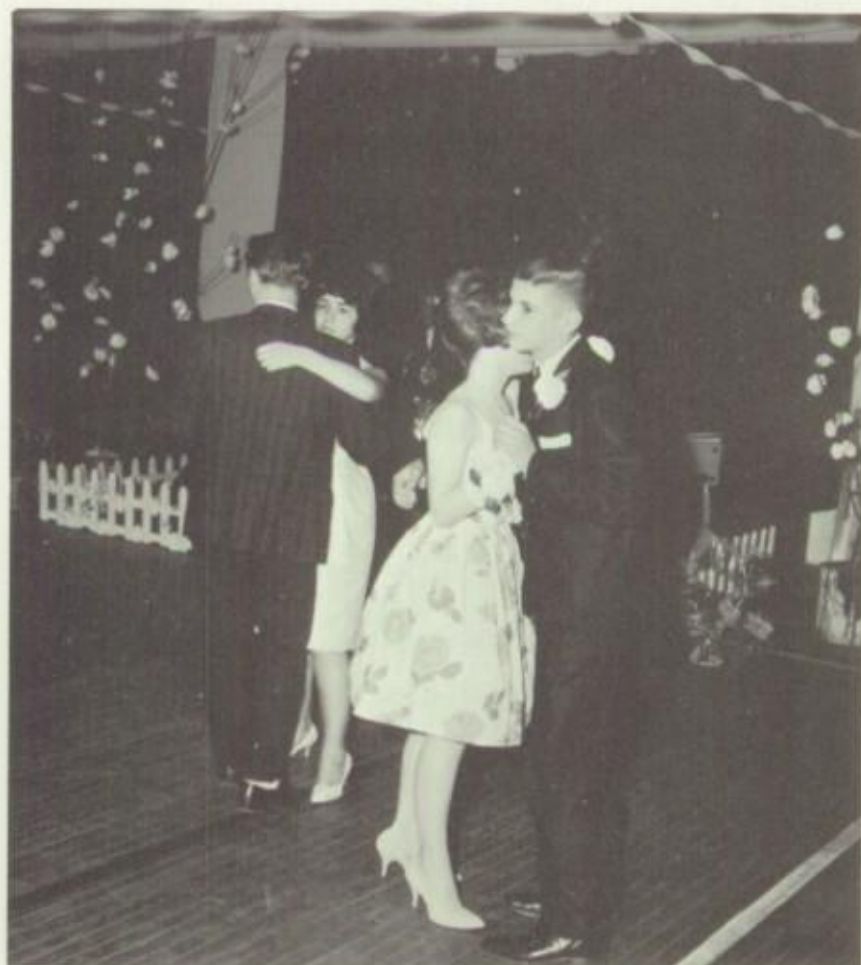

Gerri Zorich and Joe Tapak enter a "Dream into Tomorrow," their first high school formal.

Tom Carpenter, Sara Ventimiglia, Gail Mayo and Joe Curoch dance the last dance and end a night of memories.

Dwight Jones, Carol Shackelford, Jeannine DeCarlo and George Justak pause for refreshments during the Freshman-Sophomore Party.

GAC Offers Athletics in After-School Sports

The two senior girls' basketball teams battle for championship in title game.

G. A. C. Officers. Phyllis Banaszak, vice-president; Linda Macko, treasurer; Lorraine Serafin, president; Ruthe Thornton, secretary; executive board: Laurie Dvorchak, Annie Companik, and Betty Dedinsky confer with Mrs. Grace Sheheen, sponsor.

With "Let's Be Active" as their motto the Girls' Athletic Club strives to interest all girls in sports. Members skillfully sink basketballs into the rims and send smashing volleyball serves across the net, and with perfect aim, throw the bowling ball for another strike on their way to earning points for various awards.

Members with 700 points are awarded numerals, 1400 points a "W", and 2100 points a pin. A special award, the Kampus Kate, is presented for a special service to the G. A. C.; and a bowling pin, for the highest bowling average.

Mrs. Grace Sheheen is sponsor of the club.

Freshmen try their skill against the experienced seniors in a G. A. C. volleyball game.

Colorful Parade + Exciting Bonfire + Queen and

The senior class carries out the theme of the 1963 Homecoming parade, "Across the Field," with their prize-winning float.

Underclass members of the publications staffs await their entrance in the parade as Miss Ane Marie Petersen, adviser, looks on.

Latin Club displays their version of the "Oiler Chariot" as they march in the parade.

Junior class members squeeze into the class car, while Bob Plawecki is caged in on the roof.

Cheerleaders Nancy Jamrose, Joanne Baksar, Diane Pustek and Cheryl Macko lead the Homecoming Parade.

Boosters in cheering section display school spirit at Homecoming game.

Queen nominees and attendants and, "Oh, dear, what will I wear?" provided the main topics for discussions during Homecoming week, September 16 through 20, 1963.

Dismal weather on Thursday could not dismay the efforts of the student body, whose enthusiasm resulted in a colorful parade and spirited bonfire.

The excitement of halftime activities overshadowed the Oilers' loss to Hammond Tech. As the band performed, the queen nominees and the underclass attendants were escorted onto the field. Moments later a crown and a kiss from Donald Justak, senior class vice-president, were being bestowed upon Anita Jo Kinnane, 1963 Homecoming Queen. To complete the evening the queen and her court reigned over a dance in the Girls' Gym welcoming back alumni.

Anxious, hopeful and a little frightened, Etta Gima, Lorraine Serafin and Anita Jo Kinnane ride to that big moment when one of them will be crowned queen.

The traditional Grand March marked the climax of the Junior-Senior Prom, "Southern Fantasy."

Prom-goers take time out for punch and cookies.

Class presidents — Jim Walsko, junior class, and Chuck Skurka, senior class — and their dates — Kathy Banik and Jackie Dillon — dance to the music of the Reynold Young Orchestra.

The evening of May 17, 1963, will hold a special place in the hearts of WHS students as the date of the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom.

To begin the evening, pre-prom parties were held, after which couples proceeded to St. John's Panel Room, site of the long-awaited "Southern Fantasy." Prom couples were entertained by the Reynold Young orchestra.

Southern belles — Jo Jo Kinnane and Lorraine Serafin — and their dates — Roy Moffit and Tom Fudenski — enjoy the romantic atmosphere of a southern garden scene.

AS WE LEARN

AS WE enter the halls of Whiting High School, we realize that academics will consume a major portion of our time. Six hours a day, five days a week, thirty-eight weeks a year, we are attending classes which will play a vital role in forming our futures.

Whiting High's curriculum provides many outlets for the intellectually curious mind. Many efforts are being made to modernize our courses and classrooms to keep pace with everchanging times.

Students planning to further their education are provided with courses needed for entrance to college. Future mechanics and home-makers may pursue their interests in the industrial arts and home economics departments. The vocal music and art departments help students discover special talents.

We quicken our minds, develop our talents, and begin our education toward our future careers AS WE LEARN.

Board of Education Attempts to Raise Standards

Board of Education. Mr. Joseph S. Kozacik, treasurer; Mr. Joseph Pieters, secretary; Mr. Thomas Zubeck, president; Mr. George O. Buman, superintendent.

George O. Burman, Superintendent

To you, the graduates of 1964 go my sincerest congratulations. For the past four years you have received the encouragement, advice, and instruction which you needed to complete successfully the requirements for graduation from our high school.

Everyone in the world has various kinds of personal responsibilities . . . everyone also has one basic responsibility . . . that of contributing his best for the welfare of all mankind.

You can best assume this responsibility by obtaining all the education possible.

My good wishes for every success go to each and every one of you.

George O. Burman
Superintendent

and Improve Facilities of Public Schools

Problems of our school weigh heavily on the shoulders of the Whiting Board of Education. Like mighty Atlases, these men carry the Whiting Public Schools through every crisis — small or large.

In spite of the closing of the print shop, they have made it possible for each student to receive a free copy of the "Tattler."

The aim of the board is to see that educational facilities are functioning efficiently. They are in charge of everything from approving the annual budget to keeping the buildings in tip-top shape.

Their main goal is to supply each student with the best possible opportunities for education.

Raymond P. Gallivan, Principal

Whether you made National Honor Society or finished at the bottom of your class, whether you made "All-State" or did not participate in athletics, whether you were elected to class office or defeated, whether you were considered a big success or just another member of the class of 1964 — what is most important now is that you grew into adulthood as "All-American" citizens of these United States. You can accomplish this by striving to build good homes, good churches, good schools and good communities. You all can dedicate yourselves to this end.

Ray P. Galivan
Principal

Teachers, Backbone of Our Education, Offer

An uncluttered desk and Miss Petersen's smile greet students on the first day of school.

Mr. Jesse B. Allen holds a M. S. degree in mathematics. He attended Indiana State College and the University of Illinois. He teaches Algebra, Geometry, and Senior Math. Reading consumes most of his leisure time.

Mr. James J. Buckley coaches varsity football, which fact explains his interest in sports. Mr. Buckley teaches Economics and Senior Health and reads to keep up with world events. He attended St. Joseph's College, Indiana State College, and the University of Minnesota.

The sponsor of the class of 1964 is Mrs. Delma Byers, cooking teacher. Mrs. Byers holds a A. B. degree in Home Economics. She studied at Indiana University, Purdue University, and Oakland City College, and is interested in the theater, reading, travel, and gardening.

Sponsor of the choral department, Mr. Edward Deckard holds B. S. and M. S. degrees in vocal music from Indiana State. His main interests include travel, reading, and music.

Mrs. Jane DePeugh earned her A. B. degree in English at Indiana State College. Her interests include art, reading, and sports. She instructs sophomore classes of English.

Mr. Thomas Faulkner, Business Course instructor, received his B. S. and M. S. degrees at Indiana University. He spends his leisure time participating in various sports.

Students Opportunities for Greater Scholastic Merit

Mr. Stephen Fowdy, instructor of Civics and World History, attended the University of Michigan, University of North Dakota, Indiana University, and Northwestern University, and received B.A. and M.A. degrees. Hobbies of traveling, reading, theater, and sports occupy his spare time.

Mrs. Virginia Gergel teaches science and mathematics. Sewing and piano are her favorite pastimes. She attended Purdue University and Chicago Teachers College, where she received her B.S. degree.

Mr. Norman Hall, instructor of Industrial Arts is also sponsor of the sophomore class. He attended Indiana State, where he received a B.S. degree. His interests are golf, do-it-yourself kits, and hi-fi.

Mr. Wesley Humphrey is the director of the junior and senior bands. He attended Indiana University and Ball State Teachers College and received a B.M.E. degree. He spends leisure time golfing, hunting, and fishing.

Miss Alice Jenkins, girls' counselor, has B.S. and M.A. degrees. She attended Illinois, Indiana, and Chicago Universities. Her outside interests include photography, ceramic work, and reading.

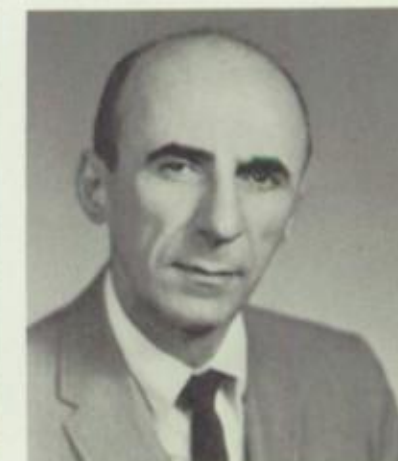

Mr. Alexander Kompier, F.T.A. sponsor, teaches English. He holds B.S. and M.A. degrees. He attended Indiana, Northwestern, and Purdue Universities. His main interest is languages.

Mr. Henry Kosalko received his B.S. degree from St. Joseph College. He acts as Director of Attendance Department, athletic trainer, and sponsor of the Patrol Club. His hobbies include coin collecting and stamp collecting.

Mr. Peter Kovachic, "W" Club sponsor and Athletic Director, teaches Physical Education. He attended the University of Illinois and Indiana University receiving B.S. and M.S. degrees. His interests include golf, swimming, and fishing.

Mr. Thomas Kujawa attended Indiana State, where he received a B.S. degree. He instructs classes in mathematics and science and sponsors intramural sports. His interests are golfing, fishing, baseball, and travel.

Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky, teacher of American History and English, attended the University of Michigan, Indiana University, and the University of Colorado. She received B.S. and M.S. degrees. Her interests include traveling, reading, and sports. She serves as Girls' Club sponsor.

Teachers Lead Students Into World of Knowledge

Mrs. Shirley Mehleck, school nurse and sponsor of Future Nurses' Club, teaches Senior Health. She attended Indiana State and Indiana University, receiving B.S. and M.S. degrees. Her interests are reading and traveling.

Mr. Michael Mihalo ranks reading and traveling as his main interests. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in Social Studies. He attended Indiana University and Northwestern.

Mr. Vincent Oliver, coach of the varsity basketball team, rates theater and sports as his pastimes. He received his B.S. degree at Indiana University.

Mr. Edward Pawlus, treasurer of the Athletic Department, has a B.S. and M.S. degree in mathematics. His main interest is reading. He studied at Indiana University, Indiana State Teachers' College, and DePaul University.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen, sponsor of the REFLECTOR and TATTLER, carries an A.B. degree in English and Journalism. Her interests are reading, music, and theater.

Mr. George Saliga, boys' counselor, enjoys intellectual interests such as reading historical novels, dramatics, and the stock market. Mr. Saliga has attended two colleges and carries B.A. and M.S. degrees.

Mrs. Grace Sheheen, instructor of health and physical education, carries a B.S. degree. She attended Ithaca College and Alfred University. She sponsors G.A.C. Leisure time is spent knitting and reading.

Mr. Thomas Spoerner, art instructor, received his B.A. degree from Culver Stockton College and his M.A. from the George Peabody School for Teachers. His main interests are sports and art.

Mr. Von Stoffer teaches biology and general science. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Ball State Teachers' College.

Mr. Jack Taylor, Spanish instructor, holds A.B. and M.A. degrees in Spanish. Mr. Taylor attended DePauw University and the University of Michigan. He sponsors the Student Council and Spanish Club. His main interest is dramatics.

Papers mount up as the last day of school draws near.

Mr. John Toth, librarian and co-sponsor of the Thespians, claims folk music and dramatics as his outside interests. He attended Indiana State College, where he received a B.S. degree.

Mr. Arnold Turner, typing, general business, shorthand, and office practice instructor, studied for his B.S. and M.S. degrees at Indiana State College, Indiana, and the University of Pittsburgh. His outside interests include swimming and travel.

Mr. James Ulrich, junior class sponsor and co-sponsor of the Thespians, devotes his spare time to reading, dramatics, religion, and travel. He studied for his B.A. and M.A. degrees in English at Ball State Teachers College and Indiana University.

Mrs. Marian Wagner, sewing instructress, graduated from Butler University, where she received her B.A. degree in Home Economics. Her outside interests include sewing and reading.

Miss Mary Wysong, English and Latin teacher, graduated from Indiana University, where she received her A.B. degree. Her outside interests include travel and sports. She is sponsor of the Booster Club, Latin Club, and cheerleaders.

Mr. Raymond Zubeck attended Valparaiso University, where he received his B.S. degree. He teaches History and Physical Education and enjoys travel and sports outside of school.

Ambitious Students Receive Scholarship W's

Getting their second Scholarship "W's," from the Christmas tree are Tom Wozniczka, John Kender and George Kucka. Absent from the picture is Marilyn Hrpka.

Arlene Benko and Nancy Jamrose set aside books for a moment to look over their third Scholarship "W's".

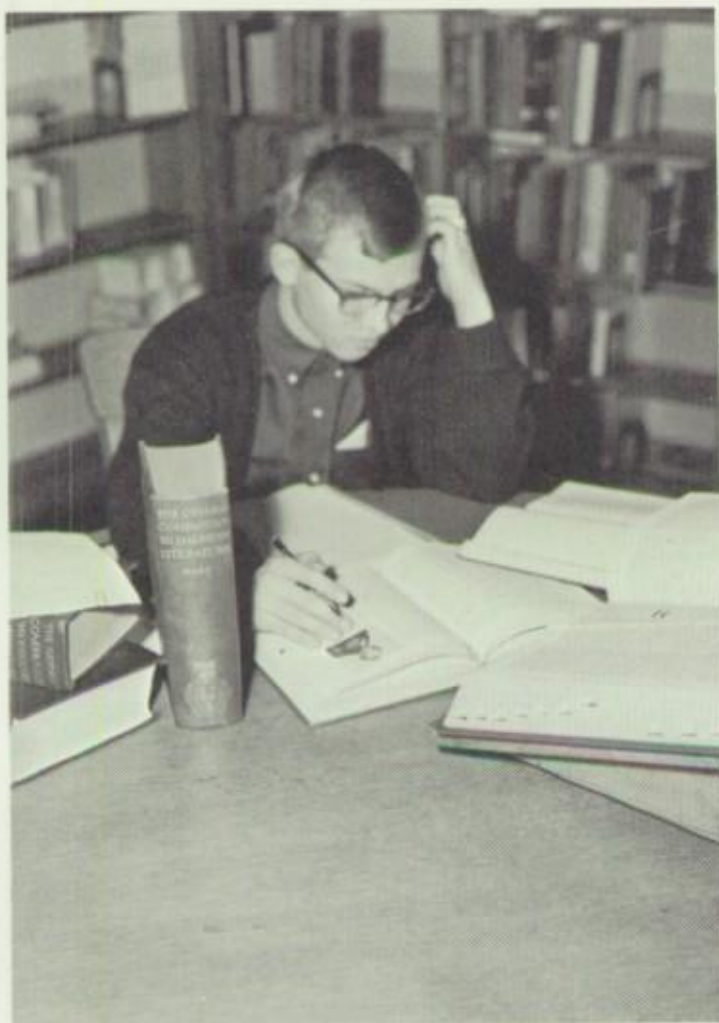

WHS students have many opportunities to gain recognition for a special achievement. Sports-minded boys may receive a "W" for attaining a certain athletic standard, while a Scholarship "W" serves as a reward for the diligent student.

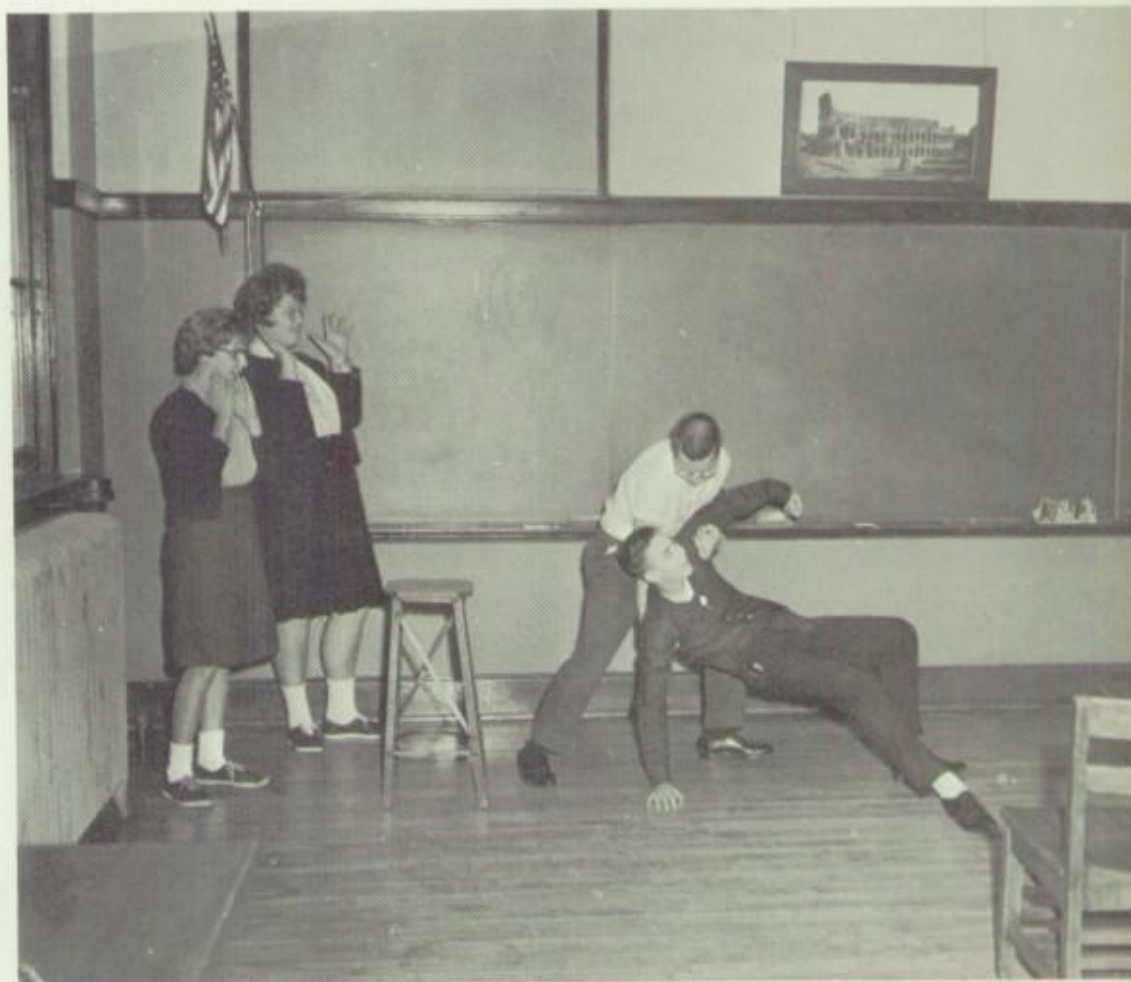

The Scholarship "W" is circular in form and each year's is a different variation of green and white. The person who earns four Scholarship "W's" receives it stamped on his diploma.

To earn a scholarship "W", a student must maintain at least a "B" average in every subject for both semesters of the school year.

English Forms Basic Part of WHS Curriculum

Chuck Zondor ponders the question "What did he do?" as he studies diligently for his daily classes.

"Oh, don't hurt him!" exclaim Virginia Ruman and Barbara Ziara as George Toth and Ken Zubeck display acting talents in speech class.

The basic subject in the WHS curriculum is English. It is the only course that students are required to have as a major. Every student from his freshman year on has a semester of English Grammar. Freshmen, juniors and seniors alternate grammar with literature, play reading, or journalism, and sophomores have a semester of speech.

In this way students explore every phase of English — speaking, writing, reading, and basic mechanics.

The English Department hopes that offering a variety of English courses will help students in their other subjects.

Mr. James Ulrich's senior grammar class is soothed by classical music while they try to pass another difficult test.

Len Tucker and Gerri Zorich dress in traditional ancient Roman apparel.

Andy Majda, Len Tucker, and Ann Gorman start the day differently by reciting the Pledge of Allegiance in Latin.

Latin Club Stimulates Interest In Ancient Rome

At the Latin Club initiation, first-year Latin students are raised from slaves to Roman citizens.

Using the language lab to improve their pronunciation, are Nancy Desatnick, Karen Bowen, and Mary Kompier.

As trains, jets and speeding ships carry people around the world in a comparatively short time, the language barrier prevents people from better understanding each other. WHS keeps pace with the changing times by offering Spanish and Latin as foreign languages.

Students acquire an extensive knowledge of Spanish by viewing films, singing songs and discussing the land, its people and customs.

Latin pupils not only learn about the history and mythology of the Romans, but also gain an excellent foundation in English vocabulary. Knowledge of Latin also helps one in learning all other Romance Languages.

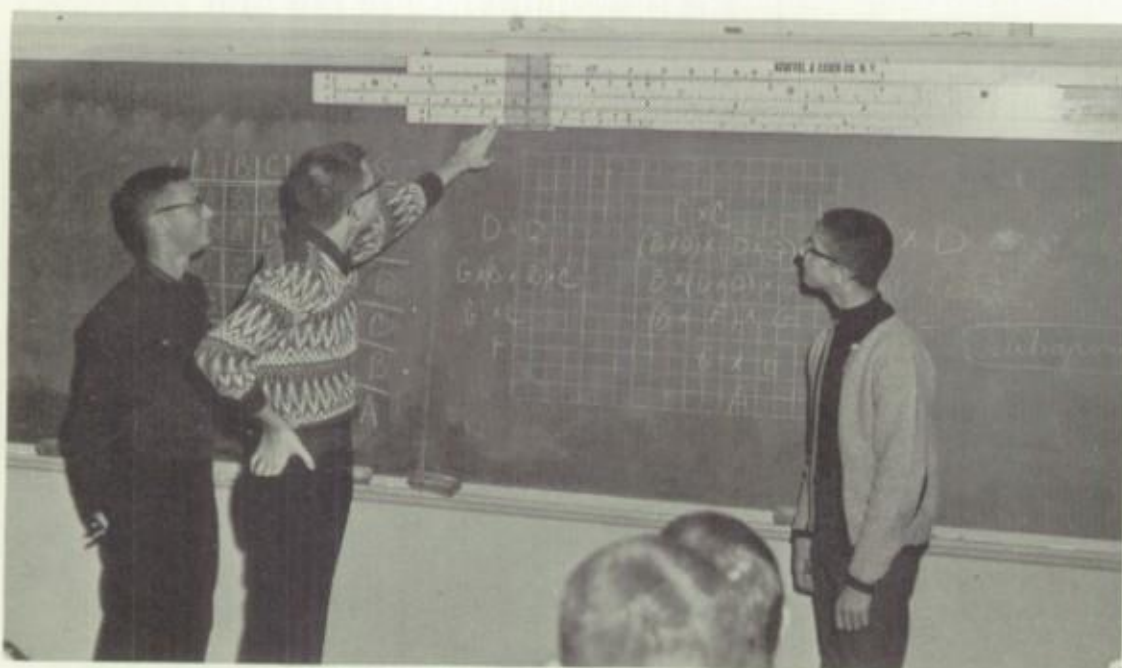

Interested Whitingites Adopt Spanish Customs

One . . . two . . . three . . . then a mad scramble for the goodies from the pinata broken by Tim Carroll.

First year Spanish students listen attentively to an explanation given by Mr. Jack Taylor, instructor.

Whiting Students Bravely Tackle Math Problems

Advanced algebra students — Al Hruskoci, Jeff Justin, and Glen Manich — figure out a problem with the use of the slide rule.

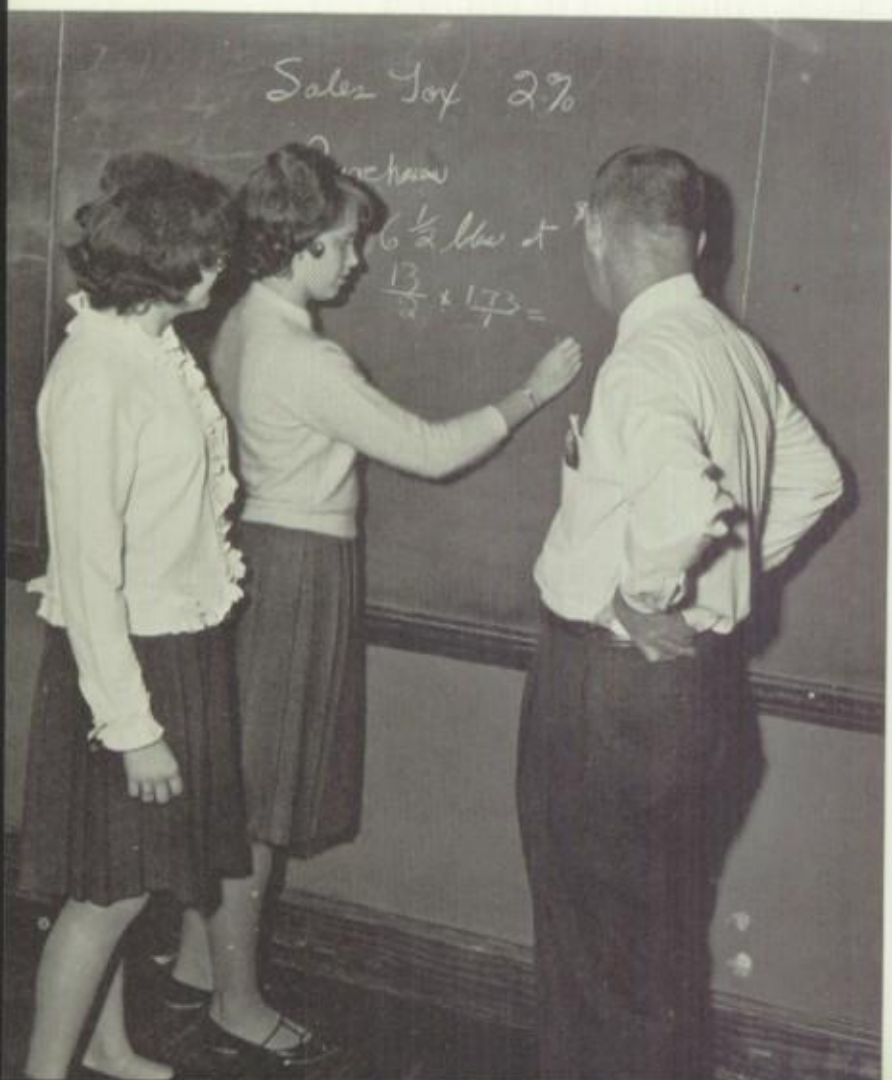

With pencils, slide rules and compasses in hand, students of Whiting High's math department tackle problems.

College-bound students are offered algebra and geometry to develop thinking and reasoning ability. Advanced algebra and senior math are available to those who choose to continue in science or higher math.

Students venturing into the business world are urged to study general business and business math.

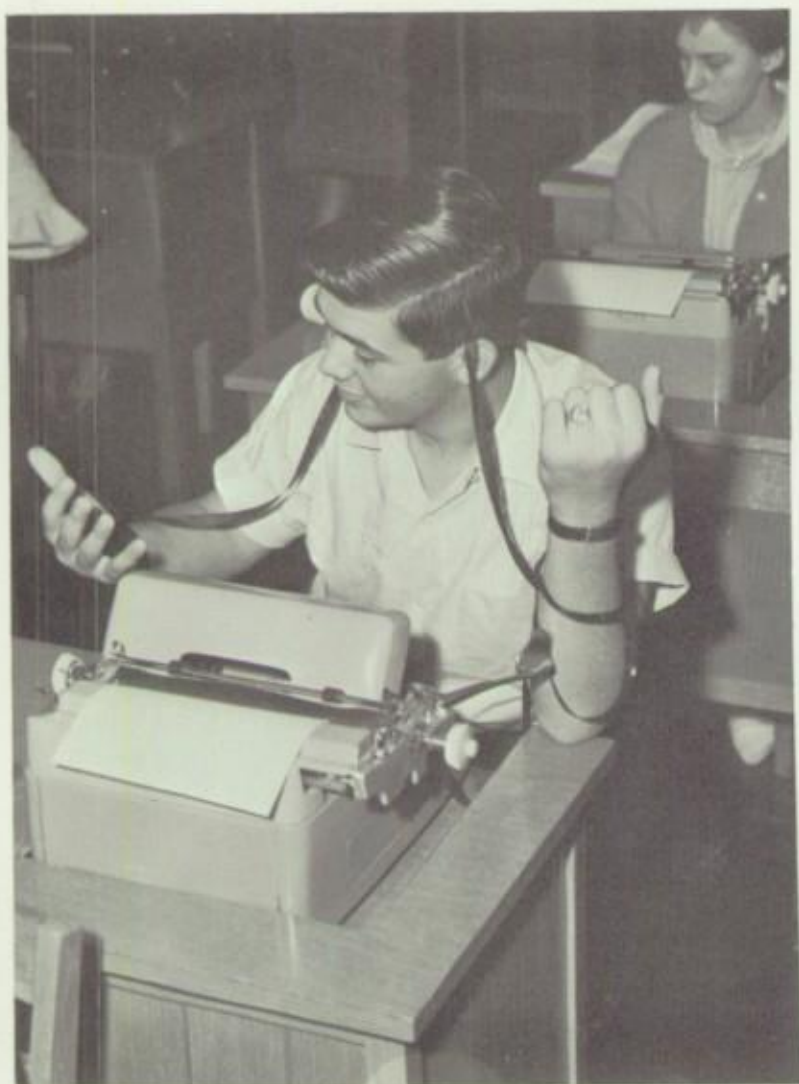

While working on a geometry assignment, Mike Skvara shows Ed Sandrick the method used to prove two triangles congruent.

Under the supervision of Mr. Thomas Faulkner, business math teacher, Susan Balutis and Laura Faught learn to compute the latest sales tax.

Business Courses Mold Future Officeworkers

Barbara Cooley, Sandy Bishop, Phyllis Banazak, and Nikki Galambos observe as Mr. Arnold Turner, office practice teacher, demonstrates the operation of the ditto machines.

"What a revoltin' development this is!" exclaims George Brezene.

Future office workers participate in WHS's commercial course program, consisting of typing, shorthand, office practice, and bookkeeping.

Shorthand and typing students constantly strive to type and take dictation more rapidly and accurately. Beginners find practical uses for asdf-jkl; and strange symbols.

Students in office practice learn to file and to operate ditto, calculating and mimeograph machines.

Students in bookkeeping develop skills in accounting and legible record keeping.

Future secretaries ardently transcribe their shorthand notes.

Helen Lynch assists Mike Abner as he works out an experiment in chemistry class.

Mrs. Virginia Gergel demonstrates an experiment in oxidation as Steve Mihalso and Loni Cain watch eagerly.

Scientists Challenge Laws of Matter and Motion

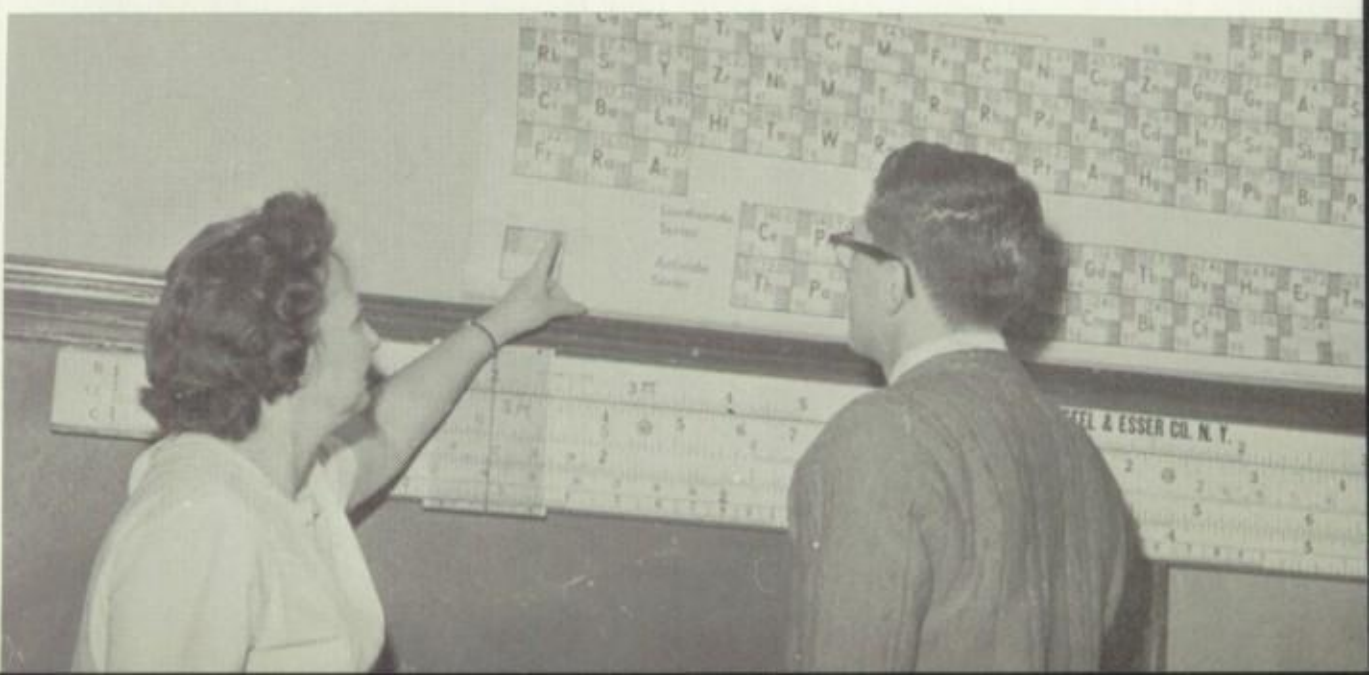

Bob Dennis and Dave Soverly use the incline plane to help them in physics class.

"Hand me some of that H_2SO_4 will you? Did your electricity give you a shock yet?" These are some of the questions one will hear if he wanders into room 32 during a Physics or Chemistry class.

Chemistry is a science that deals with the characteristics of elements and the changes that take place, while Physics is a science dealing with matter and energy. To the chemists and physicists of WHS these definitions mean fun with science while learning.

Mrs. Virginia Gergel points out the inert elements on the Periodic Table to Jim Novotny.

Enthusiastic Students Study Riddles of Life

Biology students watch unsuspecting amoebas go about their daily routine.

The Whiting High School science department is fully aware of the need for astronauts to conquer outer space, as well as bacteriologists and doctors to conquer the germs and sicknesses of the earth. As a result, students are offered a variety of science courses which include biology, the study of living things, and general science, an exploration of the universe and the earth.

Linda Dolato and Dwight Jones attempt to identify a biology specimen.

The seventh grade science class ponders over a test given by Mr. Tom Kujawa, instructor.

Social Studies Pupils View Past and Present

Leo Jacko and Bridget Gorman look on as Mr. Michael Mihalo, geography teacher, shows them "where they are" according to his map.

Meet the presidents. Tour the seven continents. Learn to understand the immortal documents on which our country was founded. All these things are made possible for WHS students through the social studies department.

Freshmen are required to take civics and geography. Upper classmen may broaden their knowledge of the world by taking World History. The pages of our Constitution come to life for the juniors in American History class, and seniors become better acquainted with government through civics.

Chuck Zondor, Marlyn Hunt, and George Vrabel stage a mock trial in Mrs. Lentvorsky's American History class.

Gloria Dunker and Bruce Miles get in practice for '68 when they'll vote for the first time.

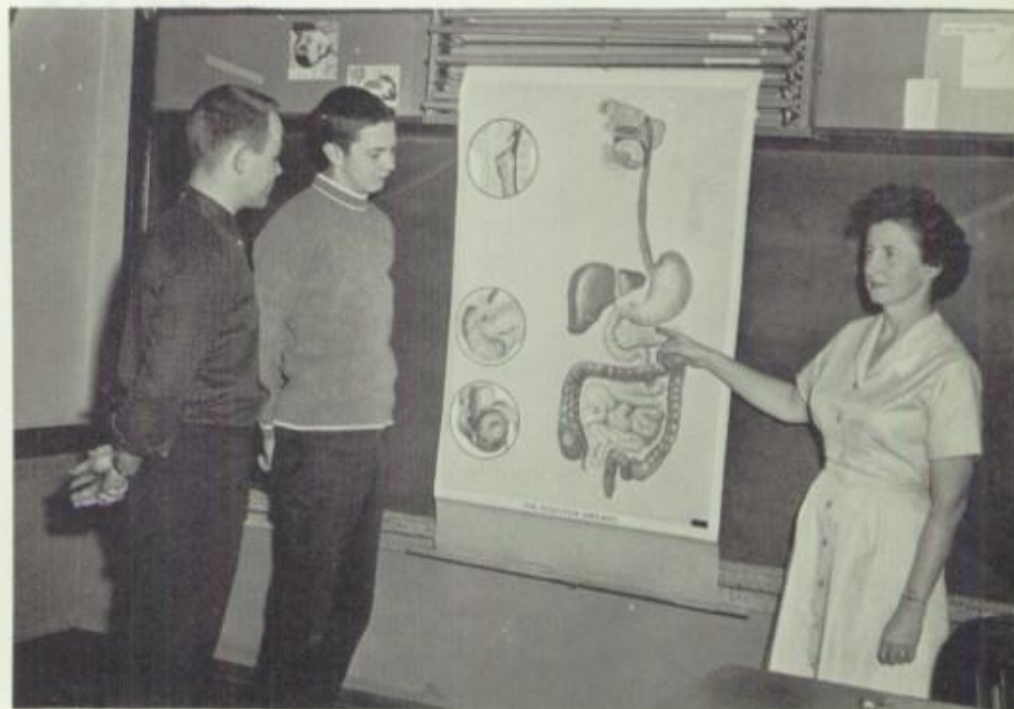

Seniors Study Hygiene, Anatomy and Diseases

Because of its great value and extreme importance, one semester of Health is required in order to graduate. Health is usually taken during one's senior year, but it is also offered to underclassmen in summer school.

on certain diseases.

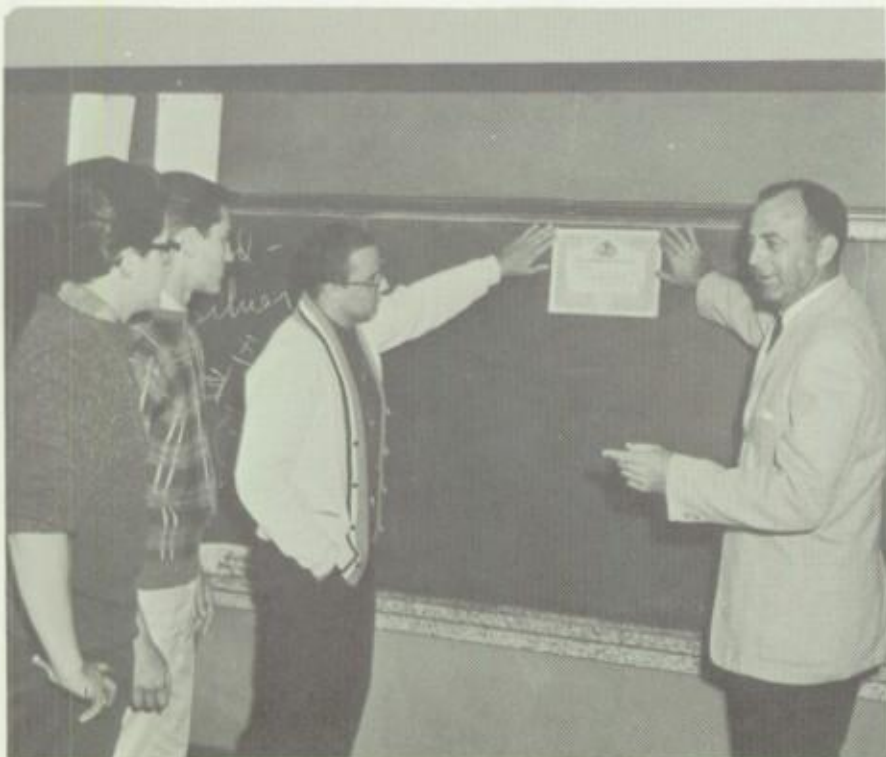

Health students study personal hygiene, anatomy, the causes and cures of many diseases, and first-aid. Requirements for health students are keeping a notebook with health drawings and preparing a report

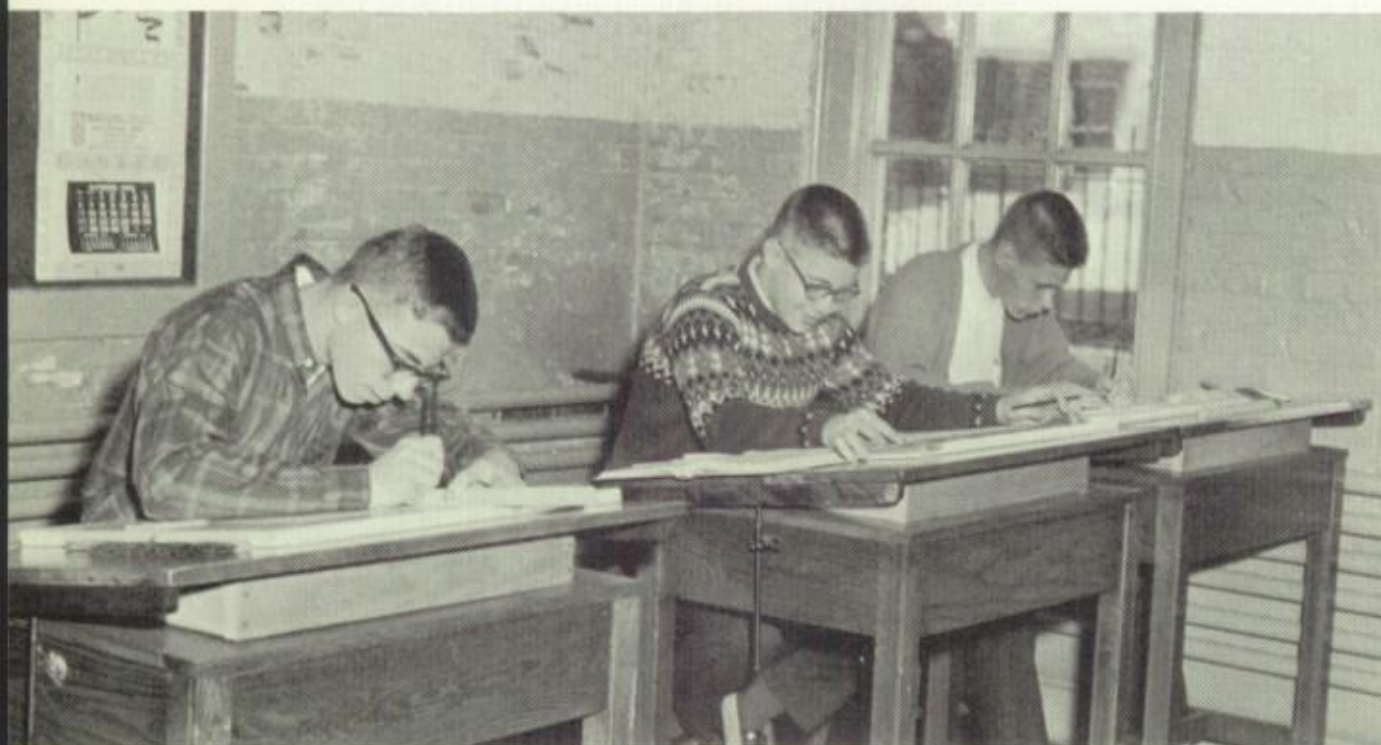

Mrs. Shirley Mehleck explains the process of digestion with the help of the body charts to Bruce Perisho and Don Dollins.

George Brezene and Kittie Dyer examine bone structure.

"This is a sample share of stock," explains Mr. Buckley, economics teacher, to Steve Shorr, Mark Stepich, and Dennis Bondra.

Architects Learn Skills in Mechanical Drawing

Allen Mayo, Chuck Buehring, and Al Stasko learn to draw in scale in mechanical drawing.

Green Drivers Master Safety Rules of Road

James Dixon, Oneal Thorne, Gene Kirk, and Felix Varela discover the innermost secrets of a car's engine in Driver Training class.

Tom Reynolds shows Matt Petrak how white wall tires could improve the appearance of a car.

Driver's Training, available to upperclassmen, encourages them to learn the rules and regulations of the road. To prepare students for emergencies and as an aid to them as future car owners, they are required to know all the parts of the car. They also learn courtesy and the right attitude towards driving, which is vital knowledge.

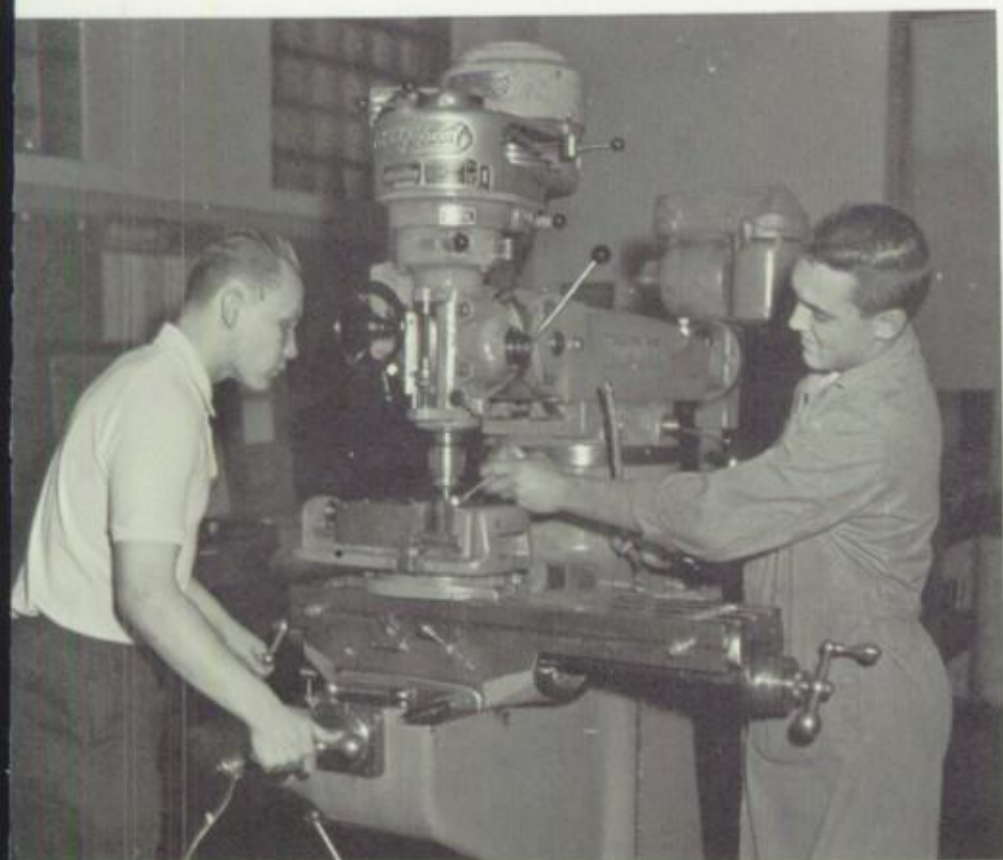

Future architects learn chart making, pictorial drawing by scale, map making and architectural drawing.

Shops Introduce WHS Boys to Future Vocations

Silence prevails over the print shop, since the death of Mr. Bernard J. Vesley, WHS print shop teacher for the past 42 years.

Chuck Fear and Bill Denno show their skills in machine shop.

Male Oilers, seeking industrial arts knowledge, take wood shop and machine shop. Development of fundamental shop skills is the main objective of these courses, while they also familiarize boys with different tools and machines.

The woodworking artist expresses himself in shop by adding a personal touch to each of his creations. Future machinists discover the uses of the machines and how to operate them.

Industrial arts courses stress investigation in these fields rather than learning the trade.

Jerry Lewandowski looks on as Dave Stephens puts the finishing touches on his latest wood shop project.

Home Ec Classes Prepare Future Housewives

Sandra Janiga and Noel Podobinski show Mrs. Delma Byers, cooking teacher, how to set a table correctly.

Using pots and pins and buttons and bowls as elective class utensils, home economics students prepare themselves for later life.

Besides cooking, home economics students must learn about nutrition and meal planning. They give an annual tea for female faculty members.

Pricked fingers is the price seamstresses have to pay for sewing a neat hem. These students learn about clothing construction and practice good grooming.

In sewing class, Carol Gulley demonstrates how to thread a sewing machine needle.

Trying to decide what "masterpieces" to display are Pat Krahies; Mr. Thomas Spoerner, art teacher; and John Kilgour.

Whiting Shines -- Thanks to Maintenance

Mr. Joseph McDonald, business manager, and Mrs. Willanna Kaine, secretary to the superintendent, compute the school's expenditures for the month.

Mrs. Gladys Hardy and Mrs. Mary Brindley, general office secretaries, prepare for another day's work.

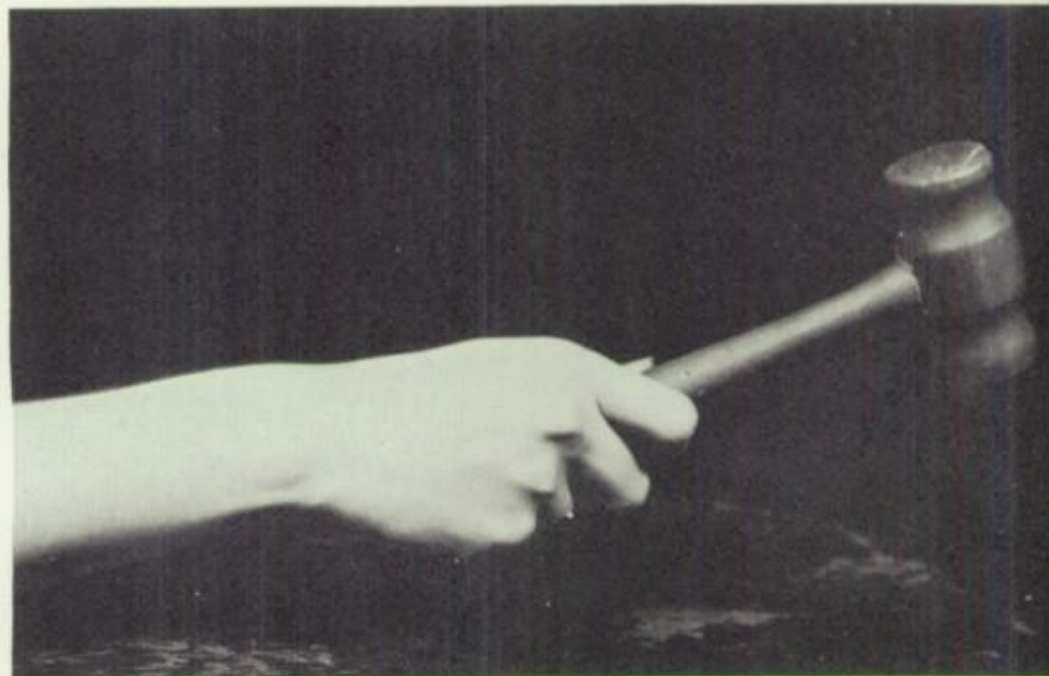

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, payroll clerk, balances the books.

Mr. John Bodney, maintenance supervisor, makes a telephone call to check on school operation.

AS WE PARTICIPATE

AS WE enter the halls of Whiting High School, we find that there is more to education than books. To be prepared to live with people we must know how to get along with them and work with them. This knowledge can come only from experience, and Whitingites gain this experience through clubs and extra-curricular activities.

By joining clubs and working actively to make activities a success, we learn to accept leadership and its responsibilities. We develop our personal interests. We learn how to work successfully in a group and with a group.

Teachers sponsor clubs and chaperone activities. We learn to respect their authority. We become accustomed to working with adults.

Many lasting friendships and pleasant memories are a result of the WHS extra-curricular program.

The activities and clubs we join act as mirrors of our interests. They are keys unlocking the doors to our futures, AS WE PARTICIPATE.

Personable Scholars Earn NHS Membership

Character, leadership, service and scholarship — these are the four cardinal points represented by the keystone and the flaming torch, the emblems of the National Honor Society. By the flaming torch, members of the NHS are taught to bear forward the searching light of truth. Like their symbol, the candle, these characteristics bring light into the darkness of the world about them.

During the junior year, five students are initiated as officers in the society, and the following Christmas, students in the top per cent of their class are admitted.

National Honor Society Officers: Nancy Jamrose, president; Bunny Dolinski, secretary; Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky, sponsor; Arlene Benko, vice-president; Fed Hapak, historian; and Rich Christiansen, treasurer, cast their studious reflections onto the mirror.

Student Voices Heard Through Student Council

The Student Council of W. H. S. is a well organized body. This body is composed of all the students registered in Whiting, from grades seven to twelve.

The numerous activities sponsored by the Council are the Homecoming activities, all class and Council elections, activity nights, and many other activities brought up throughout the year.

There are four officers and a representative from each homeroom assisting Mr. Taylor. The president must be a senior having at least a B average; vice-president, secretary, and treasurer must have a C average and be at least sophomores. This group represents the school and their work is for the school.

With the sponsorship of Mr. Jack Taylor, the Council sets forth a constitution for the whole school to follow.

Leaders of the student body are Student Council officers: Annie Companik, secretary; Larry Wilkerson, president; Mr. Jack Taylor, sponsor; Merrill Kendall, treasurer; and George Brezene, vice-president.

'64 REFLECTOR Staff Captures Lasting Memories

Miss Petersen, yearbook adviser, and co-editors, Henrietta Gima and Arlene Benko, examine the layout for the 1964 Reflector.

Nancy Jamrose, copy editor; Dixie McConnell, business manager; and Bunny Dolinski, advertising manager, chalk up the latest ad money brought in for the Reflector.

Juniors Paula Blastick, Susan Kovacik, Darlene Markovic, Ramiza Roman, Laura Tucker, Cleo Zech, Theresa Majda and Marilyn Hrpka work on copy and look for new ideas for the yearbook.

Accurately recording the 1963-64 school year was the main job of the 16 members of the Reflector staff.

After the theme, "As We," was selected, work began. Staff members wrote copy, solicited ads, took pictures, and met dreaded deadlines. Over a year of planning and hard work produced the 1964 Reflector.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen is faculty adviser.

TATTLER Presents News and Views to Students

In its 43rd year of publication, the Tattler took on a new face. For the first time it is being printed bi-weekly by the Times Graphic. This was made possible by the Whiting School Board.

This four-page newspaper contains news, sports, features and editorials carried from school to the home.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen is faculty adviser.

A black and white photograph showing three people standing in front of a bulletin board. On the left is a woman with glasses wearing a dark polka-dot dress. In the center is a man in a light-colored sweater. On the right is a woman in a light-colored blouse. They are all looking at a piece of paper held by the woman on the right.

Miss Ane Marie Petersen, adviser, discusses assignments for the coming week with Fred Hapak and Skipper Banik, co-editors for the TATTLER.

Ed Brown and George Vrabel, sports writers, and Jim Glenn, sports editor, plan the sports page for the next edition of the TATTLER.

Girls' Club officers are Carolyn Glans, secretary; Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky; Karen Kiser, treasurer; Dixie McConnell, president; and Paula Blastick, vice-president.

Since its formation in 1939, the Girls' Club has taken an active part in each school year's activities.

The aim of the club is to promote friendship and practice the art of getting along with others. Annual activities of the club, include the Big Sister-Little Sister Party, at which the senior girls receive the freshman girls as little sisters, and the Mothers' Day Tea, which honors the girls' mothers.

Members and officers attend the annual Girls' Club Conference.

Mrs. Marie Lentvorsky is the long time sponsor.

Booster Club Helps Spark Spirit for Games

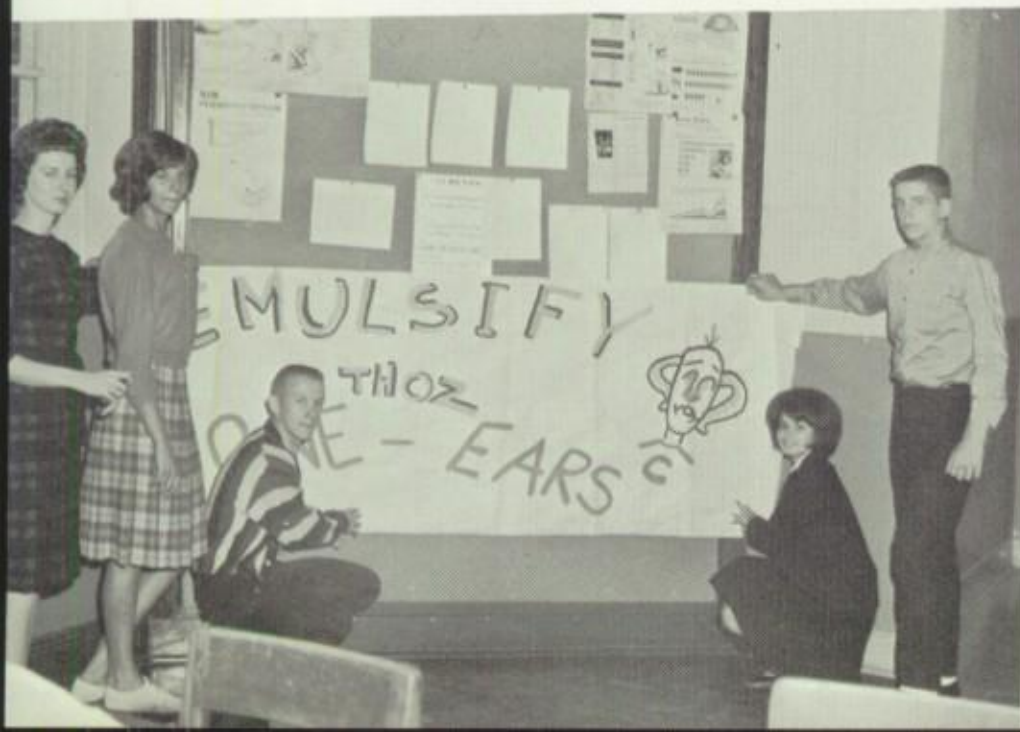

"Help back our team!" One might hear this familiar saying as he walks past the auditorium on mornings of Booster Club meetings.

The Booster Club, one of the largest organizations in school, has as its main project the planning of the Homecoming parade. It also organizes the cheering block at sectionals, sponsors an all-school dance, sells shakers to the student body, and emphasizes sportsmanship.

Miss Mary Wysong serves as the club's sponsor.

School-spirited seniors put up signs to promote Oiler enthusiasm for the Clark game.

Booster Club sponsor, Miss Mary Wysong, and officers — Jo Jo Kinnane, president; Ron Jerzyk, vice-president; Linda Galambos, secretary; and Ed Sandrick, treasurer — help boost school spirit for Clark game by hanging signs.

F.T.A. Provides Student Teachers for Faculty

F.T.A. officers — Marilyn Hrpka, Arlene Benko, Bunny Dolinski and Cleo Zech — light candles which represent their future profession as being lights of knowledge. Mr. Alex Kompier, sponsor, looks on.

Senior members of the F.T.A. enjoy their last initiation banquet.

T is for trustworthy, E for educated, A for alert, C for curious, H for human, E for energetic, and R for responsible. These qualities and many others constitute the framework of a teacher.

Future Teachers have a headstart toward these lofty goals of character. Students catch a glimpse of their futures as they are introduced to two sides of the teaching profession. Senior members develop their skills by teaching in the grade school. Members assist teachers by grading papers and performing the more tedious tasks of a teacher.

Twenty-one girls compose the Future Nurses' Club. This selective group must maintain a "C" average during the school year to keep membership in the club.

Twice a year, during the fall and spring, Future Nurses' Club members visit the hospital of their choice in the Calumet and Chicago areas.

At their monthly meetings the members view films, listen to speakers from various hospitals and decide on future hospital trips.

Mrs. Shirley Mehleck, R. N. sponsors the club.

Future Nurses' Club Officers: Mary Jo Gorman, vice-president; Etta Gima, president; Nancy Desatnick, treasurer; and Ann Bercik, secretary, discuss plans for the club's bi-annual hospital trip.

Latin Club sponsor, Miss Mary Wysong, and officers — Len Tucker, vice-president; Diane Papesh, secretary; George Toth, treasurer; and Gerry Zorich, president — make plans for the coming year.

"Friends, Romans, and countrymen, lend me your ears," declares the president as she calls to order the members of the Latin Club at the annual initiation. Members dress as gods while the initiates dress as their slaves.

The aim of the Latin Club is to give students a better understanding of Roman history and traditions.

Language Clubs Introduce Foreign Ways to WHS

The traditional breaking of the pinata adds to the highlights of the Spanish-style Christmas party. The pinata is made of crepe-paper and contains many tempting goodies for Spanish students.

Another event is The Chili Bowl, a basketball game between Los Torros, second year students, and Los Burros, first-year students.

Spanish Club officers viewing world flags are Don Wojnicz, vice-president; Tim Carroll, treasurer; Linda Galambos, secretary; Jeannine De Carlo, president.

AS WE COMPETE

AS WE enter the halls of Whiting High School some of us are destined to achieve fame in sports. Others may take an active part in supporting our team from the sidelines. Whichever our roles may be, they are equally important AS WE COMPETE.

The athletic department is one of the busiest departments in the school. The three major sports are: football, basketball, and baseball. For those who aren't interested in these sports or whose skills lie in other forms of competition, cross-country, swimming, and track are available. A new addition to Whiting High is intramurals. For athletic-minded females a program of girls' sports has been promoted.

Through competition, students learn to accept and follow orders.

The major aim of the athletic department is developing good sportsmanship among teams and fans alike.

W Club Honors Whiting's Deserving Athletes

The main purpose of the "W" Club, composed of WHS athletes, is to promote sportsmanship and leadership.

An athlete is awarded a "W" if he has met the requirements for the sport he participated in. Requirements for football and basketball are playing in 10 quarters and 36 quarters, respectively. Receiving a baseball letter requires playing one-half the innings and nine innings for a pitcher. Other sports requirements are 11 points in track, and an average of 2 points each in swimming and cross-country.

Activities of the "W" Club include ushering at basketball games and sponsoring an initiation dance.

"W" Club officers — Jay Chrustowski, secretary; Dennis Bondra, vice-president; James Walsko, president; Drew Thomas, treasurer — stand proudly in front of the trophy case.

AS WE, THE STUDENTS

AS WE, THE STUDENTS, enter the halls of Whiting High School, we become one face among many, one student among hundreds. It is up to us to develop our own talents and pursue our special interests. As individuals we join clubs, participate in sports, and begin to mature.

After our orientation as freshmen, we slowly begin to adjust to high school life. Our sophomore year begins our actual preparation for our future careers. As juniors we unite our efforts to present the Junior-Senior Prom. As seniors our thoughts turn slowly to Commencement and the decisions of the future that face us.

We are WHS students. We work and play as individuals and as groups. We are the vital part of the school. We make Whiting High School what it is.

We would like you to meet us AS WE ARE,
THE STUDENTS.

Jamrose and Benko Named Top Scholars of 1964

On today's students, the leaders of the future, is placed the responsibility of running a most powerful and progressive nation. Each of you, however large or small your position in life may be, will make an effect upon your associates, community, and country. A society is only as strong as its weakest individual. It is the responsibility of each and every one of you to keep your country strong by being strong in yourself, so that your children will not be brought up under communism.

To be a good citizen requires persistence in your endeavors, loyalty in your love for your neighbor, and a staunch belief in the ideals of your democracy. Good luck in the future,

Valedictorian

Nancy Ann Jamrose

Education is the basis for our future life. We, the seniors of Whiting High School, will soon complete the first phase of this education. The faculty has given each and every one of us an equal opportunity to enrich our minds and to mold our characters in such a way that we are able to attain the individual goals that we have set in life.

Some will broaden their educational knowledge by attending schools of higher learning; others will embark directly on their journey of life. Whichever your course may be, may you all succeed.

To you, the underclassmen, I say, "Take the opportunities given to you and strive to make your foundation firm enough to support your life's ambitions. Don't build your future life on sinking sand, but build it on solid land.

Salutatorian

Arlene Martha Benko

Mrs. Byers and Officers Aim for Best in '64

Dear Senior Class,

It is hard to realize that four years have passed so quickly, and that you are now ready to leave Whiting High School.

It has been interesting to see how you have developed physically, mentally and socially since your freshman year, when the greatest delight of some was to turn the class meeting into a cheering session. Remember? Many times I was greatly provoked, but now the memory of those little pranks provokes a smile.

All of you have learned now to take on responsibility and to do things well. I am proud of you!

You have had the opportunity for the best preparation that school can give. You have enjoyed associations with classmates and teachers which you will remember all of your life.

After graduation some of you will enter college or universities, some will go into business or industry, and some will become home-workers. No matter what your occupation may be, the greatest satisfaction will come to you from doing well what each day brings you to do.

Since I, too, will be leaving school, may I say, "Good-bye, good luck, and I'll be seeing you."

Sincerely,
Delma Byers

AS WE PURCHASE

AS WE PURCHASE from our community merchants, we come into constant contact with them. The merchants play an important part in the life of WHS.

Not only do they cater to our needs, but they also contribute to the support of our teams as paying boosters. In turn, we patronize the food stores, shoe stores, drug stores, clothing stores, stationery stores, doctors, dentists and many other businesses AS WE PURCHASE.

As a member of the Senior Class, very soon you will be making a decision regarding a big step into the future. Perhaps your decision will be to go on for further education. Or it may be, you will be looking for the job of your choice. In either event, this decision will affect and shape your future life in many ways.

Regardless of what you decide, we hope that the Inland Steel Company will be a part of your future.

Many graduates are currently involved in successful careers here at the Harbor Works as part of the nation's basic steel industry.

Steel mill work today is highly complex, involving automated production lines which require people who can be trained in skilled jobs. Most of the jobs are involved directly in the steel-making process while others are available in the laboratories or in various departmental offices. Regardless of your interests, excellent opportunities exist with Inland Steel.

In addition to excellent paying jobs and an outstanding benefit program, Inland offers a variety of on-the-job training programs plus the Purdue-Inland Program. This Program, offered to a full time employee, provides training in the areas of steelmaking, mechanics, and electricity.

Plan now to investigate the many opportunities for your future with Inland Steel Company.
